

“Every doctor and nurse took an interest in me, took time out of their schedule to teach me. HealthPATH changed my life. I can see myself in a health career.”

HealthPATH

A Career Development Program of Alameda Health System

HealthPATH provides youth with robust support, caring mentorship, and a well-defined path to a successful healthcare career.

HealthPATH promotes academic excellence and skills for life and career success and cultivates a pipeline of talented, diverse healthcare professionals who will become Alameda Health System's future workforce. Each year, hundreds of youth from Alameda County's underserved communities participate in HealthPATH's hands-on internships and learning experiences at AHS hospitals and clinics.

HealthPATH helps young people imagine professional careers, envision success, and strive to give back to the communities where they grew up.

How HealthPATH Works

Discovery

Students discover career opportunities and gain skills for academic and career success.

Placement

Students are placed in age-appropriate settings for immersive, hands-on learning.

Connection

Students are connected with caring mentors and adult role models.

Exploration

Students explore health professions and envision themselves in these roles.

HealthPATH Programs

HealthPATH's programs provide career exploration and entry-level employment opportunities for youth from middle school to young adulthood.
